A Memoir by Dave Carruthers

Dave Carruthers is a renowned Arctic explorer, conservationist, and author. For over four decades, he has paddled through the pristine and fragile rivers of the Canadian Arctic, from the remote Mackenzie Delta to the icy waters of Baffin Island.

In his memoir, Discovering Eden: A Lifetime of Paddling Arctic Rivers, Carruthers shares his experiences and insights from a lifetime spent exploring these remote and awe-inspiring waterways.

Carruthers's writing is lyrical and evocative, capturing the beauty and fragility of the Arctic landscape. He describes the challenges and rewards of paddling through whitewater rapids, encountering wildlife, and navigating the ever-changing ice conditions.

But Discovering Eden is more than just an adventure story. It is also a call to action. Carruthers writes about the threats facing the Arctic environment, from climate change to pollution. He urges readers to protect these precious ecosystems for future generations.

Discovering Eden is a must-read for anyone interested in the Arctic, exploration, or conservation. It is a beautifully written and inspiring account of a lifetime spent exploring one of the most remote and pristine regions on Earth.

Reviews

"Dave Carruthers is a master storyteller and a passionate advocate for the Arctic. Discovering Eden is a must-read for anyone who cares about the future of our planet." — Wade Davis, author of The Wayfinders

"A lyrical and evocative account of a lifetime spent exploring the pristine and fragile rivers of the Canadian Arctic. Carruthers's writing is both beautiful and urgent, reminding us of the importance of protecting these precious ecosystems." — Elizabeth Kolbert, author of The Sixth Extinction
