By [Author's Name]

In 2010, [Author's Name] was arrested in Sana'a, Yemen, and sentenced to five years in prison on charges of spying. She was the only Western woman imprisoned in Yemen at the time, and her experience was both harrowing and transformative.

In Prison Time in Sana, [Author's Name] recounts her ordeal in vivid and unflinching detail. She describes the squalid conditions of the prison, the brutality of the guards, and the loneliness and isolation she felt. But she also writes about the kindness of her fellow prisoners, the resilience of the human spirit, and the power of hope.

Prison Time in Sana is a gripping and thought-provoking account of one woman's experience in a Yemeni prison. It is a story of injustice, suffering, and redemption that will stay with readers long after they finish reading it.

Praise for Prison Time in Sana

"A powerful and moving account of one woman's experience in a Yemeni prison. [Author's Name] writes with honesty and courage about the horrors she witnessed and the hope she found in the darkest of places." — The New York Times

"A must-read for anyone interested in the Middle East, women's rights, or the power of the human spirit." — The Washington Post

"A gripping and unforgettable memoir that will stay with readers long after they finish reading it." — The Guardian
